Caufman Talley Takes Another in Cincinnati

The state of Ohio kicks things off with a star-studded finale and a four-time winner earning gold.

Cincinnati, OH (September 20, 2013) — Caufman Talley lived up to his newly-bestowed nickname at Horseshoe Casino Cincinnati Friday night outlasting 307 others to don the first WSOP Circuit gold ring ever awarded on Ohio soil. The one they call "The Cincinnati Kid" now lays claim to four WSOP Circuit wins placing him in a tie for fourth all-time.

In addition to joining an elite group of four-time ring winners, the victory awarded Tally $21,716 and gave him the early lead in the Casino Championship.

"It feels good [to win my fourth ring], especially because it's in Cincinnati and I'm the Cincinnati Kid," Talley said. "Cincinnati is a great place. This is a real awesome casino and the tournament was ran well. The staff is awesome."

"This property is amazing and we look forward to showcasing it. Early feedback from the players is overwhelmingly positive and that's who we do it for."

Horseshoe Casino could not have hand-picked a better finale to kick off its Circuit series. The final nine players included two multiple gold ring winners in Talley and the 2011/2012 Harrah's New Orleans Main Event champion Justin Truesdell (3rd), gold ring winner Robert Hankins (7th), WSOP final tablist in Darren Rabinowitz (6th) and 16-time WSOP Circuit casher Bill Varga (2nd). The finale set the bar high for events going forward and has players and staff excited for what's to come.

Horseshoe Casino opened in March of this year and is recognized as the nation's first truly urban casino. Located in the heart of downtown Cincinnati, the property was designed with its
