Rick Joyner, an amateur poker player from Atlanta, GA, has claimed the ring in his first-ever WSOP Circuit event, $250 Seniors II No-Limit Hold'em in Cherokee.

It's a brand new experience for Joyner, who's a veteran of Atlanta's thriving bar-poker scene but had never played in a major tournament. His friends convinced him to travel to Harrah's Cherokee, and after crashing out on his first buy-in in this event, he rode a last-minute re-entry all the way to victory.

Joyner, 57, loves playing poker when the opportunity arises, and he has another distinctive occupation as well. He's a veteran broadcast pro who does commercial voiceover work and creates R&B and gospel music shows for regional and national broadcast, all produced from his home-basement studio.
