STANISLAV ANGELOV SEIZES 1ST GOLD RING

Bulgarian native scoops first WSOP Circuit ring in multi-flight event.

Stanislav Angelov seized his first World Series of Poker gold ring on Friday. The Bulgarian native topped a field of 739 entries from three separate starting flights in Event #7: $250 No-Limit Hold'em at the Harrah's Cherokee Circuit stop.

Angelov made it through Flight B with five other players. A total of 39 survivors from all three starting legs moved on to Day 2 of the tournament. Eventually, Angelov made it to the final table, holding over one million in chips. From there, he made quick work of his opponents, his last being Bryan Hyden who busted as the runner-up.

Along with the golden hardware, Angelov pocketed $30,898 and 50 Casino Championship points for his achievement. The win is a great momentum boost for Angelov who has been living in the United States for about 11 years and is working toward a goal.

"I recently started playing the Circuits," Angelov said. "I have a small limousine company in Chicago. I'm trying to make some kind of transition to mostly play poker, because, you know, it's exciting," he continued. "The freedom, you travel, you see different places, so I'd love to travel the Circuit."
